

GOVERNMENT WILL INVESTIGATE SUGAR PRICE SOARINGS

Hoover Says He Is Convinced No Economic Justification for High Rates—Probe Started Into Cuba Conditions

REPORT SAYS GAMBLERS ROBBING AMERICANS

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Mar. 22.—Secretary Hoover today announced that the government is making investigation into sugar price fluctuations. He said he is convinced there is no economic justification for the high sugar prices and that on March 4 the department of commerce and other governmental agencies began investigation into the condition in Cuba under authority of the law authorizing inquiry into combinations of foreign producers of import commodities. Prior to this announcement a letter from Basil Manly, director of the Peoples Legislation Service to President Harding, made public charged the American people were in a fair way of being robbed of five hundred million dollars for the "benefit of sugar gamblers and profiteers." Manly demanded investigation and Hoover in his statement said Manly was about a month behind in his demand as the government has already started an inquiry.

PLAN DOUBLE TRACK CLEAR TO HARLAN

Present Construction From Wallsend to Bailey Progressing, to Be Done By Last of Year

Contractors on the L. and N. double track between Wallsend and Bailey are getting their forces assembled and ready for steady work, and construction will probably be in full force inside of two weeks. The contract requires that the grading be complete by November 30, so all of this double track will probably be in use by the first of the year. The contractors, Nicholas Construction company, have sublet a part of the work on this section. The L. and N. means eventually to put the double track clear to Harlan and this will be pushed as fast as it can be handled. The double track construction, of course can not be allowed to interfere with the work of moving cars. As soon as the stretch to Bailey is completed the railroad will go ahead with the line from Loyal to Coster, in all probabilities, and eventually continuing on to Harlan.

UNIQUE DESIGN FOR DESTROYING LIQUOR EVIDENCE

By Associated Press.
CINCINNATI, Mar. 22.—An unique and simple device used in destroying potential evidence on the appearance of prohibition officers was uncovered recently in a saloon here by dry agents. The device, a collapsible shelf, was found in the cafe of Harry Rawe when prohibition agents from a liquor court here raided the saloon. It was alleged that when the agents entered the place unheralded, the bartender pulled a string which released the shelf and precipitated bottles and jugs to the cement floor. The result was that all of the alleged evidence was destroyed.

DOUBLE SUICIDE DISCLOSES HISTORY FAMILY TRAGEDY

Mother and Daughter, Found Dead in Chicago, Last in Family, Four of Whom Kill Selves by Cutting Throats

WERE ONCE PROMINENT PERSONS IN THE EAST

By Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Mar. 22.—As police investigated what was termed a slaying and suicide in the deaths of Mrs. W. C. Woolson, 70 and her daughter, Mrs. Edna Robinson, 42, they disclosed what they believe to be the history of a family once prominent in the east but finally reduced to poverty, through the use of narcotics. Police enumerated four suicides in the family in the last twenty-five years, each from a razor slashed throat. A quarter of a century ago Dr. William Woolson, husband of the dead woman then a prominent physician in Chicago and New York, was found dead in his office with his throat cut. The mother and three children came to Chicago. Last night Mrs. Woolson and her daughter, Mrs. Robinson who subsisted partly on the charity of neighbors were found dead in bed, throats cut. Three notes indicated a suicide pact.

MRS. W. E. YEARY DIES AT HOME SUDDENLY YESTERDAY

Mrs. W. E. Yeary, age 68, died at her home on Exeter avenue at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Her death was sudden and unexpected. The deceased was born in Claiborne county but has been a resident of Middlesboro for several years. She is survived by her husband, five sons, Tip, Taylor, Edward, Charles and H. T., all of Middlesboro; four daughters Mrs. Mollie Shumate, Mrs. Pearl Mausee and Mrs. Vernie Williams of Middlesboro and Mrs. Will Fultz of Galtiff; a brother, George Baker of Arthur, Tenn., and a sister, Mrs. Margaret Jones of Tazewell, Tenn. Funeral services were conducted at Yeary's Chapel at 1 o'clock this afternoon and interment was in the Lane cemetery.

FOUR FIRES LAST NIGHT AND TODAY

Stony Fork House and Low Ash Mule Barn Destroyed—Slight Fires in Local Homes

Four fires occurred last night and this morning in Middlesboro and vicinity resulting in the total loss of one dwelling, a barn and other slight damages.

The four-room residence of Cager Higgins at Stony Fork caught on fire about 7 o'clock last night. The fire department were called but the house was almost entirely destroyed when the firemen arrived on the scene. All of the household goods are reported to have been lost.

A barn belonging to the Low Ash mines was totally destroyed by fire. The mines which were kept there were driven out and escaped injury, but as the building was too far out to be reached by the fire department here, nothing could be done to save it.

Fire broke out on the roof of the residence of A. B. Glosier on Brentwood road late yesterday afternoon and resulted in a small damage. The fire department was summoned and answered the call. A quantity of burning soot in a flue at the home of Dr. J. T. Evans caused a scare this morning and an alarm was turned in. Firemen answered the call but no damage was done.

SOME OF THOSE FAMOUS "GEORGIA PEACHES"

Georgia presents these seven damsels as fresh proof of the state's peach-producing ability. The girls will take part in a pageant that will be presented as part of the Georgia Peach Blossom Festival at Fort Valley, Ga., in May.

$300,000 If He Finds Home and Wife in Ga.

ATLANTA, Ga., March 20.—For $300,000—Would you live in Georgia? Would you marry a Georgia girl?

That question was put up to Manuel Duke Ledbetter, globetrotter and adventurer, and he finally decided he would—but it took him some time to make up his mind.

Ledbetter's back in Georgia now and here's the unusual tale of adventure he tells.

In 1910 when he was camping in the Crumple Creek district, Colorado, he overheard a plot of six Mexicans to rob a neighboring camper.

He galloped up to his neighbor's tent just a nose ahead of the Mexicans. A battle followed. Ledbetter was wounded twice and his horse killed under him but he killed three assailants and routed the others.

Gets $30,000

The man whose life he saved was Colonel Joe Eadards, and on the spot Ledbetter was given $30,000. The world was bright.

But a cloud appeared. Ledbetter was arrested on a charge of murdering the three Mexicans.

At his trial, Ledbetter was acquitted. Remembered in Will Now comes the legacy—Thirteen years have passed, years in which Eadards has prospered; gold and oil have brought him wealth and he is worth many millions.

In his will he specified Ledbetter should receive $300,000 on condition—That he reside in Georgia—That he marry a Georgia girl—But Ledbetter is a rover. He loves the open spaces, the sky-reaching, settle down to the hum-drum existence.

He continued to roam, refusing to be of opulence.

But in January he received a letter from Eadards, touring Europe with his family. Ledbetter returned to Georgia.

"I would have been back long ago," he says. "but that marriage clause frightened me. The letter didn't mention that condition and I am hopeful the colonel will forget it."

"But what's the difference—$300,000 is $300,000, it will brighten things somewhat, eh?"

C. O. Brown, manager of the Manning and Brownie theaters, underwent an operation at the Brosheer-Brummett hospital this morning and his condition is reported by hospital physician to be entirely satisfactory.

LOW RECORD PRICE OF FORDS IS NOW FIVE CENTS EACH

Fords will be selling for five cents next week.

This is not a new Ford joke but a stern reality. A factory representative was here yesterday and sold several hundred to a local dealer. They will be delivered next week and doubtless the air will soon be tinged with their blue, ill-smelling smoke.

The new model is somewhat smaller than that now seen on our streets. The color is lighter and the ignition system is furnished by the dealer. Of course it is a cheap product but for a nickel you could not expect a high grade cigar!

J. H. HUMPHREY OF GIBSON STATION DIES LAST NIGHT

J. H. Humphrey, age 60, died at his home in Gibson Station at 11 o'clock last night. The deceased is a brother-in-law of Dr. Schultz Gibson and is well known in Middlesboro. He was formerly connected with the Middlesboro Creamery. He is survived by his wife, one daughter Miss Josephine; by three sons, V. S., Joe and Lucien Humphrey; two sisters, Mrs. Jones of St. Louis and Mrs. Cecil of Tazewell, Va. Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 1 o'clock, the Rev. W. D. Farmer officiating.

TAG FOR EVERY MAN AND WOMAN

P. T. A. Through School Children, Making Intensive Drive For Unanimous Subscription

A tag on every man and woman in Middlesboro is the aim of the Parent Teachers association which began a tag day drive today to raise funds for redecorating the high school auditorium. Grade school pupils were active in the drive today and will continue the work tomorrow, while pupils of the high school and members of the committee will be busy at the work all day Saturday.

A party will be given Wednesday afternoon in the domestic science department for the room of the first to fourth to eighth grades inclusive that brings the most money. A prize of three dollars will be given to the boy or girl that brings the most money over five dollars. Second and third prizes of two dollars and one dollar will be given.

On Thursday afternoon a party will be given pupils of the room of the fourth to eighth grades inclusive that brings in the most money on the drive. Prizes similar to that given the other grades will be awarded pupils bringing the most money over ten dollars.

I. O. O. F. TO HAVE NEW BUILDING

Plan Erection Three-Story Brick Building, to Contain Stores, Two Apartments, Lodge Room

A modern three-story brick building containing two rooms for stores on the first floor, two five-room apartments on the second and a lodge room fifty feet wide and seventy-five feet long on the top floor will be erected by the I. O. O. F. lodge, according to J. C. Baumgardner, one of the trustees. The members decided to build a new hall instead of making an addition to the old. Location for the proposed building has not been decided upon.

The old building, as well as the adjacent property of the Odd Fellows will be sold when the new building is completed. An architect is now working on plans for the building and construction work will begin as soon as these are finished and a building site procured.

A move to larger quarters is made imperative on account of the growth of the Oddfellows and other lodges which meet there. The original plan of making an addition to the old building was not favored because the work would be more difficult and the store rooms and apartments will bring a higher rental at another location. One of the apartments has already been spoken for.

HEARING AGAINST ISRAELITE HOUSE DAVID CONTINUES

Former High Priestess Tells How Head of Colony Herded Forty Girls Into His Home, Hid Them in Attic From Investigators

SAYS PURNELL HAD LARGE FORTUNE IN HIS HOUSE

By Associated Press.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mar. 22.—Esther Hunsel, referred to as the key witness in the sensational hearing against the Israelite House of David took the stand as a witness here today.

Mrs. Hazel Wuerth, former high priestess of the cult, was the first witness of the day, she asserted Benjamin Purnell, head of the colony, herded forty girls into his home known as Shiloh and placed them in the attic when he feared a visit of Federal investigators. Purnell heard a medical examination was contemplated of the women, the witness said, and added "he put a coat, vest and pair of trousers in the rooms of each girl, to give the impression we had a husband living with us." When investigators arrived he apparently feared the scheme would be discovered and the girls were taken to the attic. After the investigators left the witness said Purnell exclaimed, "that is the time we fooled them."

Purnell, the witness said, had a large fortune. She said she saw in his private vault one hundred thousand and in currency, a bucketful of gold coins, wonderful diamond and beads of other jewelry. She said Purnell took the gems and jewelry away from his followers.

HEAVY SENTENCES FOR TWO LIQUOR LAW VIOLATORS

Richard Buttry and Wiley Roberts were convicted of transporting and having liquor in their possession and each was fined $100 and costs, given a sixty day jail sentence and placed under a $1000 peace bond. Judge Woods reminded the defendants that they would actually have to serve the time in jail. The law specifies that the defendant's car be confiscated in such cases but as there was some question as to the ownership of the car in this instance, this was not done.

The two men were arrested by the night policemen on Twentieth street Sunday night. They pleaded not guilty to the charge.

DR. R. E. DOUGLAS ACCEPTS CALL HERE

To Assume Presbyterian Pastorate May 6—Has Been Macon Church Pastor 21 Years

The Rev. Dr. Rutherford E. Douglas of Macon, Ga., announced his decision to accept the call to the pastorate of the Middlesboro Presbyterian church at the church prayer meeting hour last night. He will not be here to conduct his first regular service until May 5, as it is necessary to wait until after he is released from his present church by presbytery which meets the last of April.

Dr. Douglas was here about four weeks ago and conducted Sunday services and prayer meeting the following Wednesday evening. The congregation of the church was so impressed with him that they voted, then, to extend him a unanimous call to the pastorate of the church. During the intervening time Dr. Douglas has had, also, under consideration a call from a church in Texarkana, Ark. and in Gainesville, Ga., but he was finally persuaded to come to Middlesboro.

The new pastor is a native of Kentucky having been born and educated in this state, and is well-acquainted throughout the state. He is an earnest and scholarly man, an eloquent and brilliant speaker, and Middlesboro Presbyterians feel that they are fortunate in bringing him here.

Dr. Douglas has been pastor of the First Presbyterian church in Macon, Ga., for twenty-one years and his record there has been an unusually successful one. During this time he has established three self-supporting churches in the city and he has greatly ingratiated himself with the people there of every denomination.

ANNOUNCE FORD HAS PURCHASED PEABODY TRACT

Hundred and Twenty-Five Thousand Acres Coal Land in Clay and Leslie Counties Bought From Peabody Syndicate

PRICE REPORTED FROM TWELVE TO TWENTY MILLION DOLLARS

By Associated Press.

LEXINGTON, Mar. 22.—It became known here today that Henry Ford had bought a hundred and twenty-five thousand acres of coal land on the Kentucky river in Clay and Leslie counties at a price said to run from twelve to twenty million dollars. The land is known as the Peabody tract.

The lands include within their bound some of the most extensive tracts of rich undeveloped coal and timber tracts in southeastern Kentucky. Much of it is beyond present railroad development but easily accessible to development projects.

One of the interesting sidelights on the reports that have been circulated in this section, is that Mr. Ford will give the rich Bannock Fork coal property on Wallis Creek to the Peabody Syndicate as part payment for the 120,000 acres of undeveloped land involved in this deal.

Practically all of the Peabody holdings in Kentucky are undeveloped properties, the Black Mountain Corporation being the lone exception. It has been the general policy of the Syndicate to acquire undeveloped lands, clear up the titles and all other legal complications and then pass them on to others for actual operations, though the Syndicate in other states has been a big factor in coal production.

FIRST CASE OF CHICKEN LAW VIOLATIONS TRIED

The first cases tried for chicken law violations were coincident with the first day of spring. Two women were called into police court and charged with allowing their chickens to run at large. The complaining witnesses alleged that the fowls had invaded a plot recently sown in clover and had made successful efforts to scratch it up. Considering the high price of clover seed and the work required to sow it he felt constrained to invoke the aid of the law.

Defendants did not deny infractions of the chicken law. Asked by the judge if they would promise to put up the chickens and thus discourage further rampages, they answered in the affirmative. Assured of this, the judge did not impose any fine.

SAM P. MARTIN TO SWEDEN MEETING

First Baptist Church Will Send Pastor to World Conference—Raise His Salary to $4500

The Rev. Sam P. Martin, pastor of the First Baptist church, will be sent by his church to attend the Baptist World Conference in Stockholm, Sweden, in June, it was decided at a business meeting of the church officers last night. The Rev. Martin's yearly salary was raised to $4500, also, at this meeting.

The World Conference in Stockholm will be the second international Baptist meeting in which the United States has ever taken part. The conference was held last year in France. The conference this year is of especial interest because Dr. E. Y. Mullens, president of the Southern Baptist Seminary in Louisville, will probably be elected president of the world conference, and for this reason an especially large number of Kentucky Baptists will try to attend.

A THOUGHT

He that withholdeth corn, the people shall curse him but blessing shall be upon the head of him that selleth it.—Prov. 11:26.

There is an ill-breeding to which whatever our rank and nature, we are almost equally sensitive—the ill-breeding that come from want of consideration of others.—Bulwer-Lytton.

DESTROY ALL LIQUOR TAKEN IN RAIDS

Bell County citizens appreciate the recognized merit of the federal prohibition agents who have been stationed here, and we realize that small part of the liquor law enforcement in this county could have been possible without their work and vigilance. Our complaint, if complaint it may be called, is against the deputies and special officers who make up the party in liquor raids and who, we understand, are often responsible for the conservation of a large part of liquor for use of their own or their friends.

A subscriber told us yesterday of a conversation between a special officer and a companion recently overheard. The officer was bemoaning the necessity of destroying a "fine coper still" in a recent Virginia raid, and he swore it would never have been done if he had had authority. He told further of purchasing a half-gallon fruit jar and filling it with a sample of the confiscated liquor. Hard luck pursued him though, and the jar as broken and its contents lost before he reached home.

Such officers, whether they are half-joking or not, are not the type for prohibition officers. The prohibition amendment is part of our constitution, its enforcement is a patriotic duty. Honest personal opinion will always be found on the side of its enforcement and no arguments for the maintenance of moonshine making have ever been advanced. Every still should be promptly and thoroughly destroyed by officers and every drop of "evidence" confiscated and destroyed in this way there is no danger of revival of the industry at this place and there is no danger of corrupting the officers by tempting them to take the liquor home with them. We can not afford to allow our officers to be under suspicion in any way and this point can not be too strongly stressed, we feel.

OBERAMMERGAU IN WASHINGTON

It is announced in the press of the Capital City that "The St. Patrick's Players of Washington intend to make their presentation of the Passion Play an annual event, and have their own theater available for next year's presentation."

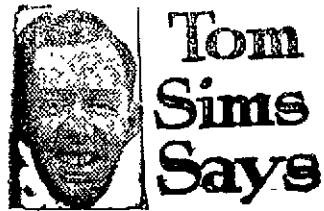

"The noted Oberammergau production will be the model for the local organization, and it is proposed to make Washington the Oberammergau of America. So many thousands of Americans go to the little European town yearly to witness the Passion Play that tremendous interest has been kindled in it everywhere, and a purely American offering, given in the Nation's Capital would, it is believed draw tremendous throng here every year, greatly to the advantage of local industries and commercial organizations."

There is little sympathy and less support for this plan, which will appeal to the thinking as an attempt to commercialize religion and make a modern version of "money changers in the temple."

The simple peasants of Oberammergau did not design their famous interpretation of Biblical drama as a money-making scheme. In its old world setting, with its unpaid actors, and the high ideals which has made every participant in the play to endeavor to live a life which would not dishonor the noble part taken in the drama, the Passion Play of Oberammergau has been an inspiration to travelers, to readers, and to the devout.

To "make Washington the Oberammergau of America" playing here the Passion Play and thus "drawing tremendous throngs every year, greatly to the advantage of local industries and commercial organizations" will make of the Passion Play a mock and rob it of its significance. To their credit be it said, no theatrical producers have ever dared to put the Passion Play on the boards with the idea of charging admission; it remains for the organization mentioned above to consider the making of the Capital City "the Oberammergau of America."

Fellowship of Prayer

THURSDAY Watchfulness

"Take ye heed. Watch and pray."

Mark 13:33.

Read Mark 13:24-37.

"Character is the greatest of all treasures and character is built by action. It is the things which one does which determine what he is."

REFLECTION: Jesus admonishes his followers to be ready for a future emergency, that would come sometime somewhere. What we are doing now will determine our readiness for the crises that may come to us, for what we are doing now builds our character.

HYMN:

Still, still with thee,

When purple morning breaketh,

When the bird waketh, and the shadows flee;

Fairer than morning, lovelier than the daylight,

Dawns the sweet consciousness, I am with thee.

PRAYER: O Lord, support us all the day long of this troublous life, until the shadows lengthen, and the evening comes, and the busy world is hushed, and the fever of life is over, and our work is done. Then of thy great mercy grant us a safe lodging, and a holy rest and peace at the last; through Jesus Christ, our Lord. Amen.

CLAIBORNE PROGRESS TO RE-BUILD, EDITOR HAYNES SAYS

Benjamin Haynes, editor of the Claiborne Progress, whose establishment at Tazewell was destroyed by fire Tuesday afternoon, was in Middleboro yesterday. He says he is going to build a modern office and he is already arranging for new equipment. The newspaper will come out without interruption until the new shop is fitted up, however, as it will be printed at the Three States office here.

Mr. Haynes has been editor of the Progress for thirty-seven years and he is one of the best known country editors in Tennessee. He has had many offers of help since the fire, in money and other ways, and all of his friends are anxious to assist him. A number of subscribers are paying up for their paper several years in advance, thus giving him the benefit of this advance in payment.

Berton Bralley's Daily Poem

WHERE EVERYBODY HAS A HORN TO TOOT

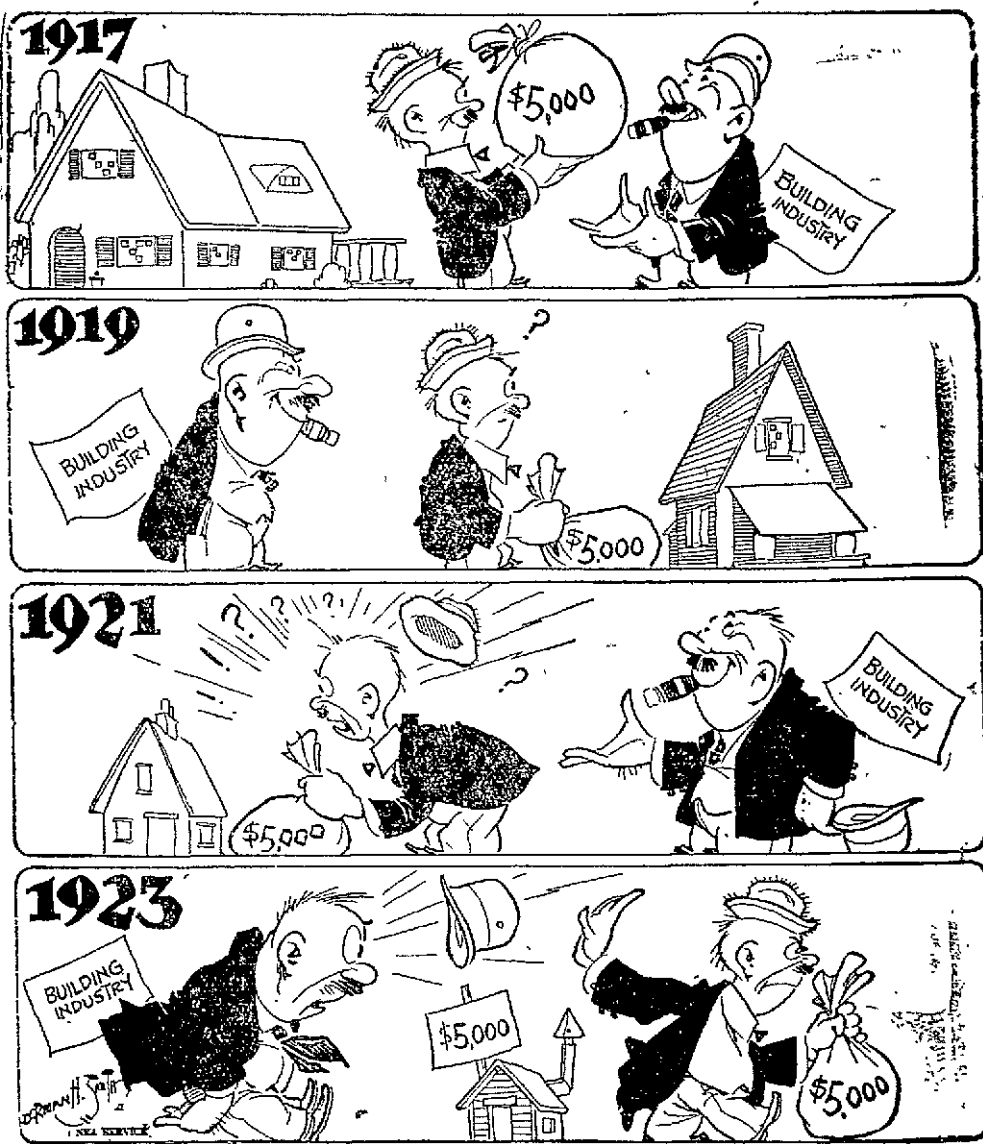

By Berton Bralley

Los Angeles the glamorous, where all the streets are clamorous
With motor cars too numerous to count,
Where real-estate men trot to you to sell a house and lot to you,
And population's always on the mount.
Los Angeles, where baby-talk quite naturally may be talk
Of oil and mines and railway lines and fruit;
A feverishly busy town, a tonic and a fizzy town,
Where everybody has a horn to toot.

Los Angeles, where roses are, yet where the people's noses are Sometimes assailed with oil and sooty smoke;
Where one may quickly cop a roll and just as swiftly drop a roll,
Be rich today—tomorrow wholly broke!
A proud enthusiastic town, at times a bit bombastic town,
Where boosters boost by night as well as day.

A town that has society of every known variety
And every game on earth for them to play!
Los Angeles, where folly would appear to reign in Hollywood
(If you believe the tales that people spread).
But where the movie-makers are as decorous as Quakers are
Who labor, play a bit, and go to bed.
(Whichever tales seems best to you of these that I've expressed to you,
Accept it, doubtless neither one is right—
You know how rumors tangle us—and I've observed Los Angeles
From three one 'afternoon 'till ten at night!)

If the French take Frankfurt it will not cause a sausage shortage.

LETTER FROM SYDNEY CARTON TO JOHN ALDEN PRESCOTT

MY DEAR JACK:

I was quite surprised at your news that you had not mentioned to me before the lady whom you are to wed. Are you sure it's a go this time? You know you have informed me so many times that you have met the one and only girl that I shall never feel you are safely married until I form one of the procession that follows you back out of the church door from the chancel rail.

If you really mean it this time, old chap, I certainly will be your best man and will try to get away to go with you to Sharon for the week of the pre-festivities. I ought to do this much for my best friend.

I can't help wondering just what that little Paula Perier is going to do? You know you've had a bad case on with her for a long time, my boy. I'm seriously afraid she will cut out rough aren't you? However, all such things have an end, you know, and possibly she will take it philosophically. But you certainly were interested in her.

Of course I know she is the most beautiful, the sweetest, the dearest and the most wonderful girl in all the world, but you have told me that many times before, Jack. I suppose there comes into every man's life at last one woman who shuts out all the past loves and makes future ones very difficult.

I am anxious to see your paragon, and I am buying a new long-tailed coat purposely for the event. Do you want me to wear white spats? I'll even do that for you.

You know we often wondered in our college days which one of us would be the first to marry. Honestly, Jack, I'm glad it's you, for I'm not ready to give up my liberty just yet, not for the most wonderful girl in all the world.

By the way, how does that young protege of your mother's, Priscilla Bradford, take it? I always had a notion that Priscilla, with your mother's abetting and help, would corral you, my boy. I'm glad she didn't, for honestly, she was kind of a pain don't you think?

I'll see you soon, Jack, for I have a business engagement which will take me over to Albany soon, and I am anxious to know how you made your farewells to the little Paula.

So long, SYDNEY.

MY DEAR SYD:

You can bet it's a go this time, and I want to say to you what I would not say to anyone else, that I'm awfully sorry about all those other girls. Now don't grin, I don't mean I'm sorry for them, for they were probably playing the game just as I was, but I'm sorry that I haven't something to give to Leslie that I have never given, or at least, never pretended to give to any other girl before.

This love game Syd, is a good deal of a bluff, you know. We like to dance with this girl; we like to talk with that girl; we like to buy flowers for another, and kiss still another, but when we find the real girl, the girl that we like to dance with, and buy flowers for, and kiss—then we know that everything else was spurious, and we are ashamed of all that has gone before.

I know what you are saying—"atta boy Jack." But honestly, I am serious. Last, when you see Leslie, you will know that I could not be otherwise. Syd, the first moment that I looked up—happened that I could not make her my wife, I would be the most miserable of men. I was bowled over completely. She is a little below medium height, with the most wondrous blue eyes—eyes that at times look almost black; hair that in the sun is like brilliant copper. She has an indescribable complexion, like live alabaster lighted by flame, lips of scarlet, and teeth that make you try to keep her smiling.

You may not know it old chap because you have not met the girl yet, but there comes a time in every man's life when he wants to settle down and become a decent member of society; when he is more than a little ashamed of all his peccadilloes, his small vices, his big follies and his general cussedness. Then he is fortunate indeed, if he finds a girl like my Leslie. When you see her, Syd, you will know all I am trying to convey.

As for Paula Perier, I have not seen her for a long time. I think she grew quite as tired of me as I was of her. I neither had the time nor the money to spend that gold-diggers like Paula expect.

The thing that is worrying me now is not my past, but my future. Leslie is the daughter of a very rich man, but like all American fathers he is holding his simoleons together very carefully. Neither of his daughters will get anything until he dies. He believes that because he and his wife began on comparatively nothing and worked up, his daughters and the men they marry should do the same; but he forgets that he has not brought his daughters up to endure the hardships that his wife endured.

I have got to earn more money, yet I hate to give up my prospects as a member of this firm for a bigger salary somewhere else, just for the present. You see old chap, that the responsibilities of a married man have begun already.

TODAY'S RECIPES

ORANGE CREAM

Strawberry preserves on orange cream makes a delicious dish for afternoon teas or desserts at dinners. To make the orange cream, dissolve one and one-half cups of sugar, or enough to sweeten, in two cups of orange juice. Add two cups of cream, thin or medium a few grains of salt, and freeze, using three measures of ice to one of salt.

Serve the cream in orange skins which have been washed and chilled. Or a pretty method of serving is as follows:

In a sherbet glass put two or three sections of orange and a little powdered sugar. Over this fill the glass with cream. Garnish the top with orange sections, free from skin or seed, or strawberry preserves.

COLD ORANGE SOUFFLE

Soak one tablespoon of gelatin in one-fourth cup of cold water for 15 minutes. In a sauce pan place the unbeaten yolks of three eggs, one-half cup of sugar, a pinch of salt and two tablespoons of lemon juice and stir until smooth. Place this over water and cook until thickened. Add the soaked gelatin and allow the mixture to cool.

When it begins to stiffen add one cup of orange pulp, whites of three eggs stiffly beaten and a half cup of cream, also stiffly beaten. Turn into a mold and chill for two hours, or until ready to serve.

Then turn from mold into serving dish and garnish with stiffly beaten cream, sweetened and flavored.

DO YOU FEEL TIRED AFTER EATING?

A tired nervous feeling may be a sign of poisons in your system which prevent proper digestion. Food turns into more poison and gas, making you nervous and weak. Simple buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adlenka, expels poisons and gas from BOTH upper and lower bowel. Removes old matter you never thought was in your system, which poisoned stomach and made you tired and nervous. Adlenka is EXCELLENT to guard against appendicitis. Frank I. Lee & Co., druggists.

EVANGELIST SHOWS SCIENCE AND BIBLE GO HAND IN HAND

Dr. Violette at Pineville Christian Church Says Whole Conflict by "Lopsided" Scientists and Preachers Not Fully Informed

COMMENTS LEGISLATURE FOR VOTING DOWN EVOLUTION BILL

PINEVILLE, Mar. 22.—"Science and Scripture," was the subject discussed by Dr. E. E. Violette at the First Christian church Tuesday night. The Darwinian theory and the role played against it by William Jennings Bryan were both ridiculed, Mr. Bryan because of his ignorance of both the Bible and science and the Darwinian theory out of respect to the monkeys.

Dr. Violette said that the whole conflict between science and the scriptures was caused by lopsided scientists and ministers, who did not know the whole of their subjects. He emphasized the point that the teachings of the Bible could be taken hand in hand with science, and pointed out the fact that the Bible taught that the world was round centuries before the discovery of America by Columbus. He also gave illustrations of astronomical and medical facts taught in the Bible that have been "discovered" by scientists only within the last few decades. He emphasized the fact that although the Bible had been termed out of date by many, that its teachings had held true for many thousands of years while not a text book twelve years old of any science, including mathematics, is being used in accredited schools.

Dr. Violette complimented the action of the Kentucky legislature of voting down the law to abolish the teaching of the Darwinian theory in the schools of the state. He said that it was a matter that could not be handled by law.

In speaking of Thomas Edison, Dr. Violette said that he had done more for the uplift of humanity with his scientific discoveries, than all the narrowminded sectarian ministers had done throughout the ages. He spoke of the benefits of the work of other great scientists but said that their work could consistently and should go together with the teachings of the Bible. The subject for Thursday night is "The Unpardonable Sin; Friday night, 'Our Lord's Unanswered Prayer' and Saturday night 'The Crossroads of Life and Death'."

SCHOOL FENCE WAS NECESSARY

Superintendent Says Work May Now Begin For Beautification of High School Grounds

Steps have been taken for the beautification of the high school grounds, according to Supt. J. W. Bradner. Committees composed of teachers have been appointed which will superintend the planting of flowers on the lawn. It is understood that this work will begin as soon as the weather becomes more settled.

Now that the fences around two sides of the lot have been completed, the superintendent says that they may hope to have a beautiful campus. The educational board has received a great deal of criticism for building the fences, he says, but such steps were necessary to protect the grounds not only from pupils but from others who did not hesitate to take a short cut across the lot.

"The fence also keeps the children out of the canal when the waters are high," Prof. Bradner explained.

WORK ON NEW ICE PLANT IS PROGRESSING RAPIDLY

Work on the new ice plant building on North Nineteenth street is progressing rapidly. The concrete for the foundation has been poured. Construction work on the building will begin as soon as the foundation is ready. A large crew of men are kept busy at the place and everything possible is being done to complete the plant before summer. The old part of the old building used as a sub station by the Utilities company will be left standing and will continue to be used as such.

GOOD SOAP FOR TWO CENTS A POUND

Make It At Home By This Easy Process—Takes Less Than 30 Minutes

Nowadays, more and more women are doing as their mothers did and are making their own soap. If you have never tried it, you will be surprised to see how easy it is to make good soap, soft soap, hard soap or floating soap, just by using kitchen scraps and waste grease together with a can of Merry War Lye, the safe and sure soapmaker.

In the old days when soap was made by the boiling process it took nearly all day to make a kettle of soap. Now it is hardly any work at all—requires no boiling—takes less than 30 minutes. Saves you money and gives you all the pure, clean soap you need for kitchen, laundry and all household purposes.

You will find simple directions for soap-making on the label of every can of Merry War Lye.

Merry War Powdered Lye comes in a convenient can with revolving sifting top that cannot come off, cannot get lost, recloses tightly and preserves contents. It is economical to buy and easy to use.

MERRY WAR POWDERED LYE "Makes Mighty Good Soap"

WOMANLY TROUBLES

'Twas Hard for Her to Stop Work, But This Texas Lady Says She Had to Go to Bed.—Helped by Cardui.

Salado, Texas.—"I suffered a great deal with womanly troubles," says Miss Ira Lillian Hart, of Route 1, this place. "I would, for a day or two, feel drowsy, stupid and lifeless; didn't feel like doing my work."

"I would suffer pains in my sides and back, and very severe headaches."

"I am the housekeeper, and it was very hard for me to stop, but I would get in such a misery I would have to go to bed. I heard of Cardui, and that it was good for this suffering. The very first bottle I took seemed to help me. I did not suffer near so much, so I sent for the second. It did so much good for me, I can't say enough for Cardui, for it certainly was a friend in need."

Women who feel the need of something to help relieve, or prevent, such troubles, should profit by the experience of thousands of other women, and try this mild, harmless tonic.

All the world may love a lover, but the world and his wife are extremely critical of the engaged couple's conduct. Those who are engaged are today allowed greater freedom than formerly, but the young woman should ever keep in mind that the conventions have been reared for her protection, and she violates them at her peril.

ENGAGED COUPLES

An engaged man silently bespeaks his devotion by paying no attention whatever to other women.

During long absences of her fiancé a young woman may go out in society with other men, but no one man more than another.

Long engagements are trying on the couple, their families and friends; it's well if the wedding date be tentatively set before the engagement is announced.

The man may give his fiancée gifts within his means, but not beyond—except wearing apparel or other things which might be classified as "maintenance."

It's assumed that a bride-to-be's family can trust her fiancé anywhere with her; at the same time the couple should be so circumspect in conduct as to avoid criticism.

IT'S BAD MANNERS for an engaged couple to snuggle, cuddle, caress or otherwise display affection in public.

Club Plans to Attend District Meeting
In Knoxville Thursday—Boost

Delegation for Atlanta

Convention

KIWANIANS INVITE TO LOUISVILLE ROAD MEETING

Dr. George Stair of Boston, the evangelist who is holding a revival service at the Pineville Baptist church, addressed the Middlesboro Kiwanis Club at its regular luncheon today noon on the subject, "Courtesy." Dr. Stair is one of the pleasantest and most interesting speakers the club has heard in a long while and his talk was greatly enjoyed.

"Courtesy, consideration for the feelings of others, is the thing that is most needed throughout the nation at the present time," Dr. Stair declared. "More courtesy should be manifest in political life, in professional life, in business life, in social life, and particularly in religious life."

Elaborating this last point the speaker went on to tell of the need for more consideration in religious life. "We should recognize the good in other denominations," he said; "we have no right to claim preeminence in religious matters. In all religious matters the only foundation is truth, the spirit of Jesus Christ. If all denominations accept the revelation of Almighty God as the truth there would be no disagreements or discourtesy."

J. R. Ramey was chairman of the club meeting today. Dr. Stair drew the attendance prize. The silent boost was furnished by Charles G. Smith. In the absence of the president, A. P. Liebig, vice-president J. W. Bradner presided and presented several important business matters. The first was a letter from the Kentucky Good Roads Association urging a good delegation of Kiwanians to attend the big road meeting planned by the Louisville Board of Trade, to be held in Louisville March 27. The club voted to send Judge J. F. Bosworth as its official representative.

A letter was read from the Jellico Kiwanis Club saying that thirty members were going from there to the International convention in Atlanta May 28-31, and proposing that the clubs of Corbin, Barbourville, LaFollette, Pineville Middlesboro and Jellico combine forces and go together to the convention in order that the mountain delegation might be more impressive. The club favored this and voted to appoint an "On to Atlanta" committee.

Another important letter from Boyd Ford Kentucky-Tennessee district secretary, was read urging Kiwanians here to come to Knoxville next Thursday for an important meeting there. A. M. Kinnaird and G. H. Talbott of the inter-city relations committee were appointed a committee to look into this. The letter follows:

Dear Kiwanian:

Your District Officers feel that they are very fortunate in securing International President of Kiwanis Clubs, George Ross, of Toronto, Canada, for three speaking dates in this District, and it is relative to this matter that I am writing you.

On March 20th, President Ross will be in Knoxville and Lieutenant Governor, Leslie Driver of Johnson City, has arranged an Inter-City meeting to be held in Knoxville on this date.

I don't believe that it is at all necessary to urge an attendance at this meeting, however, I am asking that you not only avail yourself of this opportunity but also urge the other members of your Club to attend in large numbers.

This is the first time the District has ever been honored by the presence of an International President except at District Conventions, and your District Officers are very anxious to have a large and representative delegation.

The meeting begins at 9:30 in the morning, and runs on through the regular noon day luncheon of the Knoxville Club, which meeting of course, you are expected to attend.

Again assuring you of our anxiety to have you with us, and with kindest personal regards, I am

Yours in Kiwanis, Boyd Ford.

DORT SIX

A new car with new beautiful body lines and a new powerful motor—a worthy companion to the Dort Four.

$1025

F. O. B. Flint

CUTTING straight through accepted values, this amazing Dort Six sets up a new standard for six-cylinder cars and at once establishes for itself an unique and exclusive class of its own.

It embodies certain far-reaching advances in design and engineering that till now have never been purchasable save in cars nearly twice the Dort price.

It is an aristocrat in appearance; it has power in abundance; it picks up nimbly; rides smoothly; grips the road tenaciously at high speed, and travels thrifly. And, most important, it has the stamina to go thousands and thousands of miles beyond the usual life of a car.

First to impress you will be the long, graceful body lines, indicative of the fine running balance of the car; the handsome finish; and the smartly tailored top that accentuates the beauty of the body.

A closer inspection reveals a wonderfully staunch chassis; long, flexible springs, and deep-cushioned upholstery that assures the utmost in riding comfort and traveling ease. But to really appreciate all that this new Dort offers, you must ride in it. Or better yet, drive it. Then you will fully realize its superlative qualities. You will experience a new thrill in motoring.

Behind the wheel of this new car, you will form a new conception of power and flexibility—2 to 60 miles an hour on high gear; pick-up from 5 to 25 miles in less than 9 seconds.

Dort engineers have gone straight to the basic principles of internal combustion motor design to work out results in performance that are today recognized as most urgent. They have produced a motor that develops its greatest power where power is needed most—at practical speeds. In hill climbing, hard pulling, and for quick acceleration in traffic full power is available instantly.

The Dort Six with its many admirable features exemplifies the fullest measure of six-cylinder motor car efficiency.
